Dear Damaris,

Thank you, thank you for your presentation to the IONS Tucson Community Group at our "First Friday" meeting on July 11th.

From the feedback I have had, it was obvious that people really loved your presentation and their opportunity to hear your talk, "After-Death Communication and Bereavement: Actual Stories of People Contacted From the Other Side." In our society today, people are really searching for ways to understand deceased-initiated communication, and they very much appreciated your time and energy in presenting such a well thought out and prepared program.

Your presentation was wonderful, as always it was fun yet serious, informative, and stimulating. I know that folks learned many things from it and now have a much better understanding of the immediate and long term benefits of communicating in a variety of ways with their deceased friends and especially family.

So, again, thank you, for providing IonsTucson with a new way of looking at the possibilities and the impact they can have on us as individuals.

Sincerely,
